

McKesson Taking Care of Our Own Fund

Caring about each other is part of what makes McKesson special. That's especially true in tough times.

One of the ways we help one another is through the McKesson Taking Care of Our Own Fund. You can apply for a grant when you face a natural disaster, catastrophe or family emergency.

This Guide will help you quickly figure out if you are eligible and how to apply for a grant.

For more details, check out the FAQs at www.mckessoncares.org.

Who Can Apply

You can apply if you're a McKesson employee who works 20+ hours weekly in the U.S. or Canada. You can also apply if you are on leave with pay, including short-term disability, medical leave or paid time off.

The Fund is administered by the Emergency Assistance Foundation (EAF), our trusted partner. When you contact the Fund, you will hear directly from EAF.

How to Apply?

You can apply for two types of grants, depending on your situation.

1. When You Need to Evacuate

When you're in the path of a FEMA-declared disaster, like a major storm, you may need to evacuate. If that happens to you, you can apply for a $1,000 Get You to Safety Grant to help with your expenses. You will need to provide your personal contact information and location. (Tip: Use an email address that you can access from where you are.) Apply at www.mckessoncares.org. After you apply:

- Look for an email from DocuSign, where you'll provide your banking information for the money transfer.
- After you reply to DocuSign, you'll receive an email confirming the transfer will happen within 24 hours.

2. When You Face Personal Hardship

If you're facing financial hardship from an unexpected event, you can apply for a We Care Grant of up to $5,000. The event could be an accident, house fire, or other emergency. Or it could be medical expenses that your health insurance doesn't cover. To make sure we help those who need help most, income guidelines apply for this type of grant. See the FAQs for a list of qualifying events and expenses.

- Go to www.mckessoncares.org and select "Apply for a Grant." Register and you'll receive an email with the application link.
- Submit your application. (It will go faster if you have your expense receipts ready to upload.)
- The Emergency Assistance Foundation will review your application. They will email you if they need more information. Expect to hear back by email within three business days.
- If you are approved, look for an email from DocuSign to confirm your banking details. Check your junk mail folder if you don't receive it within 24 hours.
